RE: ANNAOPLIS ROAD PROJECT

The original deadline for bids for the Annapolis Road Project had to be cancelled due to some technical difficulties with the bid. In its place the city will immediately be re-issuing a new bid for this project that is scheduled to be released the week of April 2nd, 2018.

Please understand that these are merely technical issues related to the bidding process and these steps have been taken to make sure that the bidding process is open and fair. This in no way changes the city's original plans for the planned repair for Annapolis Road. All original plans and expectations that have been communicated to the citizens are still scheduled to be completed as originally stated.
